

ASA YOUTH BASKETBALL

...tipping off its 9th year of preparing youth players
for the next level

Spring Session 2012 begins in March!

Open to 3rd - 9th grade boys and girls

We prepare players to compete at the high school level. Players will be instructed in the individual and team skills necessary to achieve success in high school, including aggressive man-to-man defending principles and individual offensive skills. Special emphasis will be placed on the intensity, attitude, concentration and commitment necessary for success at the high school level. We are committed to player development.

The club is led by Frank Allocco Jr., Head JV and Assistant Varsity Coach at De La Salle High School.

There will be two practices per week running 1 ½ to 2 hours each

All of our coaches have coached high school basketball and/or played collegiately

There are approximately 15 players per practice group

Practice locations are predominately in Danville or Walnut Creek

Players will be placed on teams of roughly ten players to compete in the Spring MVP league with games on either Saturday's or Sunday's. There will be 8 games plus playoffs.
